31 Mar 2015 17:20:00 +0000Amphetamine: Windows malware scanner, network monitor and virus shield As a webmaster, website owner or a client, you can't afford downtime. When you fail to promptly deal with it, you may suffer from negative impact on website performance and user experience, and thus decrease the search engine ranking and drive the number of visitors down. In other words, website downtime is very expensive. All of your online activity might be compromised as well, so it is absolutely necessary to keep the computer running all the time, and this is precisely what Amphetamine does. Amphetamine is a free, open-source tool that is well known for its convenience and for its ability to simultaneously monitor the network and scan for malware on Windows operating systems. It allows you to easily and quickly set up the desired state of the computer after some specified time intervals or when any user logs on to the PC. So far, Amphetamine was designed mainly for PC users, but it can also run on Android, and now it is going to be extended to iOS as well. When the computer starts, Amphetamine displays a graphical interface that allows you to monitor the network traffic, view the opened programs, launch an app, open and close the screensaver, and perform the other tasks you can come up with. In addition, the utility monitors the PC activities, collects its logs, runs the Antivirus Scanner, and checks for unauthorized access to the PC. All of this is done in the background while the computer is running. The program includes several advanced features:
