10.08.2016, 21:25 Lexy 3 Comments I can't solve the problem have tried everything, the message on the map reads that the software is "not compatible with this model. Download free navigation bmw e60, The new Navigation DVD for the BMW 5 series includes more than 50 maps and can be freely and independently downloaded to the navigation system. It also provides extra features like traffic information and weather reports. The system is produced in Germany. The most important feature is its high compatibility. The navigation disc contains only the navigational software; no data medium is required. The 5-discs DVD navigation system from BMW is easy to install. The navigation DVD is attached to the BMW door with the collar clip and a cable. The software download is done with a USB/MMC or DVD / CD option. The navigation DVD arrives with preloaded maps and is very easy to use. Users can download additional maps and manage them on their PC or Mac with the BMW software. The navigation systems in the BMW 5 series are all the same and can be installed on the same navigation discs. This includes maps for the regions of the US, Australia, Germany and the UK. The navigation system in the 5-series models for the US, Australia and Germany include the function DriveMode, which offers advanced guidance in difficult terrain. The navigation system is also available as an option in the United Kingdom. BMW navigation system for your 5 series is designed for use with the optional navigation display. Instead of the color display, you have to control the system using the buttons for volume control, mapping functions, music and function buttons (XM-Travel, camera, radio). At the display, the information can be presented in the following way: - Display of the navigation map with traffic, weather and direction of travel in the currently selected driving mode - Menu to navigate to the departure and destination addresses - Display of distances to the next and previous destinations - Display of the route map to the selected destination - Display of the distance to the selected destination - Display of speed limits along the route - Display of the speed-index in the current driving mode - Display of the average speed in the current driving mode. - Display of the route map.
