There is a Google Chrome extension for "Google Talk" but you really need to pay $30 a year to use it. You can watch webcams, and hear both audio and video, but it requires multiple browsers and is unstable at times. You will have the ability to control the audio and video when using only the Omnik application. In this short video i will explain why that product is not up to the "OMNIK" standard. Hope this helps. This is a short video of how the software works. With OMNIK you will be able to experience tomorrow's communication today. Stop paying for calls that you can make FREE. We offer unlimited free video and audio calls to anyone, anywhere at anytime (PC to PC). Make video and audio calls where you can have up to 4 people on a call. Control your own public or private 10 person chat room where all people can see and hear each other. You can control the topics and participants. You may be paying for the service, but when the service is that good, the price for free calls is worth it. Consider a video call where you know in advance you will talk with the person. This might cost you about $1 for a minute, depending on the person you call and the time of day. To have video calls is much better than paying by the minute for a phone call. If you are going to be using video calls, you will be able to see the person much better, this is especially true in the case of younger people. Video and audio calls are more interesting than a phone call and that is more useful than paying by the minute. Most people you call will love it and you will enjoy it, the caller as well. This free video and audio calls and video call service is called Omnik. There are many video and audio calls programs out there. But Omnik
