Before you begin, please make sure to have an up to date copy of the Cubase 4 SDK. Note: This is the same as the Cubase SDK listed in the Download Center, except it includes all of the Cubase 4 files. Use the standard installation script provided with the Cubase SDK to install the SDK and the Cubase 4 components. After installing the SDK, you can determine if you have a valid license by using the License Manager. If a license is found, the License Manager displays the license number. If no license is found, the License Manager displays the software-is-not-authorized message. 1. Stop the Cubase 4 Application. 2. Open the StartUp folder and open the Cubase4 folder. 3. Double-click on LicenseMgr.exe to run the License Manager. 4. Click on the View Licenses button to display the license information. 5. Note: If a license is found, the license number is displayed. 6. Make sure the software-is-not-authorized message is not displayed. If not, enter a valid license number and click on the Continue button. The License Manager displays the License Information window. 7. Click the Copy button to save a copy of the license number. 8. After you have successfully copied the license information, click on the Yes button. The License Manager displays the license information. 9. Click on the Register button to register a license for a new serial number. 10. Under the Serial Number field enter a new serial number. 11. Click on the Create Button to create a new license. 12. Click on the Complete button to complete the license registration. 13. The License Manager displays the license information, which includes the serial number. 14. Click the Send License Info button to send the license information to the software. 15. Click the Return button to close the License Information window. 16. If the software is not authorized, the License Manager displays the Software-is-not-authorized window. 17. Enter a valid serial number and click the Continue button. 18. The License Manager displays a message informing you that the license is authorized and that the serial number has been registered. 19. Click on the Install button to install the serial number. 20. Note: The License Manager displays a message informing you that the software is e79caf774b
