The Proteus Core makes smart design choices at everyÂ .Tommy Lewis (footballer, born 1935) Thomas Henry Lewis (3 October 1935 – 2007) was an English footballer who played as a midfielder for Southampton in the 1950s and 1960s. Football career Southampton Lewis was born and raised in Caerphilly and signed as an apprentice with Southampton in 1953. He was an active player in reserve team matches and played on a number of Southampton's pre-season tours, and was appointed club captain in October 1959 by Red Kerry, who took over as manager after the resignation of Stan Cullis. He became a first-team regular for the "Saints" under the new manager Bob Torrance and on the day before the 1960 FA Cup Final, he was capped in the match by Ted Bland, a Scotland international. At the end of the 1959–60 season, Lewis was awarded a benefit match against First Division rivals Manchester United in October 1960, this was played at The Dell and finished 3–3, with Lewis netting the Saints' only goal in a three-goal win. During the early 1960s, Lewis established himself as a key member of the Southampton midfield alongside Bill Rawlings and Jimmy Allen. For the 1963–64 season, Lewis was sidelined by a serious

That's why in the weak field approximation the electromagnetic force can be brought down to just the Coulomb force. Is it because of the line integral of  $\oint \vec{F} = 0$ ? A: Is it because of the line integral of  $\oint \vec{F} = 0$ ? Yes. By the way, in the weak field approximation the electromagnetic force  $\vec{F}$  on a charged particle is  $\vec{F} = e(\vec{E} + \frac{1}{c} \vec{v} \times \vec{B})$  If  $R$  is the volume of a charged particle and  $\vec{F}$  is the force per unit volume then  $\vec{F} = \int d^3x \rho \vec{F}$  where  $\rho$  is the charge density per unit volume. This is the explanation. For a charged particle of charge  $q$  in a magnetic field  $\vec{B}$  the force per
