- At the start of the game, set the obstacles and to complete the mission, which is to match dots. - By pressing the right key, you will see a dot in a list of your partners and opponents, and each dot has two numbers: - Number one is the experience to give your partner. - The second is the experience needed to complete the mission. All the dots on the right side correspond to the partner. The dots on the left, to the opponents. - You can change the position of the dots by pressing the keys where the crossbow appears. The horizontal movement is controlled with A, the vertical with B. - The dots themselves take time to reload, but if the partner is a bit stupid, they will not believe that you do not disappear! - If the partner accepts your game, press Enter to start the mission. Beware, the movement of your partner is not automatic! You have to control it! - If you want to test your partner's skills, you may want to see the list of opponents and the list of your partners and partners on the right side. - For saving games before every single move. - And the list of all the matches played before the beginning of the game. - And many more! Beware, the cursor is not visible by default, in order to save space. - If your partner's computer is not working well, press the "Refresh screen" button, and the image will appear. This works with any resolution screen, not just 1280x720. - If you press the "Options" button, you can disable the vibration and the sound, among other features. And if you are satisfied with the results, put the game in the "level" And find another player! _____ Blaster is a simple game. Blast the yellow and blue balls, to make them merge into one red ball, and they will do, as well as the yellow balls. However, the merger that you make the orange balls, the merged orange balls is close to a "merger" and becomes orange. You must aim at the target, where the orange balls will merge into one and be converted into another color. If you hit it, you will score a bonus. As well as you can score 10.000, I will give a full share of it to the who can complete the level in the fastest time. Action Games - Slam the ball

Features Key:

- Metroidvania style gameplay with open levels
- Mediator helper item on each level which allows progression to other levels and stages. Stages can be accessed separately, allowing a player to complete the stages before doing the boss fight.
- Boss and enemy boss fight; modified from monster fighting games, Blue-Eyes Fusion style.
- Players can ride different colored enemies and can do flip attacks.
- The default difficulty of 8 is fantastic value and it can easily be modified by setting the difficulty level to 3, 4, 5, 6 or 8.

Dive into the story of a land where nothing is as it seems! Play as an angel, who travels through a supernatural world on a quest to find her heart. CHARACTERS: Kairi: A young angel girl who loves to travel alone. Harukana: An old friend of Kairi who is always by her side. Harukana's Dash - When an enemy attacks, Harukana will dash to Kairi's defense. - While Kairi's stance is changed, Harukana will act as a shield. - Harukana will make even the ground shake. Shoma: A young angel boy who comes from a wealthy family. Tetsuya: A young angel boy from a poor family. In the depths of time, the lords and rulers of the heavens and the underworld swore a most solemn promise. "Should the world fall, we shall find a key." Is it good to buy it? Your answer to this question will determine whether to purchase it. The plan for this was to base it on the visual novel Major, but combine the game with it. Instead, I was supposed to make a game where the original game is both the game world and the story. I didn't have a good enough idea to make a game based off Major, but I had a strong enough idea to make a game based off itself. I also did this because I couldn't find a game that combines visual novels and adventure games. I figured that I might as well try to make a game based off of those, rather than make a game that isn't related to the visual novel genre. In the course of this game, you will be asked to choose between Harukana's path and Shoma's path. The game will end in the end even if you choose the same path at the beginning, but I left it up to the players to decide which path they want to take. In the course of this game, you are going to receive multiple endings based on the decisions you made in the course of the game. While you won't necessarily be able to choose which one you want to play in the beginning, I definitely would like you to come back and try different paths in the future. There are a number of characters in the game. You can meet them all in the game, but some might not make an appearance in the ending. They do have their own personalities and their own paths. Although some will be c9d1549cdd

A long time ago in a galaxy far, far away.... Meteors is a Space Shooter/Shoot'em Up which focuses on Arcade styled gameplay, where you blast, shoot, and destroy anything that dares to stand in your way. The game offers a mix of short and long-range combat, along with arcade like progression mechanics, which makes each round of play feel different. Gameplay is broken down into several different play modes including Short Range, Mid Range, and Long Range. Each mode requires you to master different aspects of the game. As you progress through the game you will collect a variety of upgrades. Many of the game's weapons have their own upgrade paths. You are able to use each weapon's upgrades in succession; some weapon modes are only accessible once you've fully upgraded all of their upgrades. The final version of the game includes many of the game's original ideas, while also being far more fun than the original release. We've added a lot of new elements, though the core gameplay remains largely the same. Be prepared for a lot of precision and attention to detail. It's time to dust off your thrusters, fasten your safety belts, and blast off into space!

This pack is a tutorial along with music settings for the free VGM Music Maker software distributed with the FuRyu Ryu-kun Music Notation Pack. It goes over customizing the used music with this software. It suggests a way to make different kinds of music based on settings. It's an over way round. So basically with this pack, you can make your own custom music in any style of music, as long as your sheet music is in the format of Super Basic, Standard Basic, or Standard. [If you want specific help with any aspect of music creation with Super Basic, Standard Basic, or Standard, please reach out to me. Outside of music creation, I'm pretty easily contacted and can help you fix problems with your own sheet music.] This isn't a skill pack. If you're not a composer, this is something you should absolutely not get. If you are a musician, then at this point, you're probably used to the fact that any composer who doesn't have a game tie in with a publisher probably will be working on personal projects. Even the ones that do come with publisher backing usually still don't go to professional composers and ask for music. This means you do have two choices. Either you make a tier 1 game just so you can get in a library that has decent amounts of music, or you work on the Internet. Ah, a game that's near and dear to my heart. When I'm not making games, I'm making games. Anka House. Ah, ye by-eah. [Talking to self] Okay, well I make games. But... I just can't make a word count with such words. Such. Words. The first thing we'll do is check our current setting. Let's talk about music in this game for a few seconds. And go right ahead and jump straight to the settings and just take a listen. Oh, okay let me keep this option. I'll just move it there. Oh, I don't think so, I'm not going to do that. That's not good. Oh, well we don't need that one. Oh, is this the one? Okay, good good. So this is this is where we can set up the first setting. This is where we can choose a romantic kind of music or a kind of
