Hans Schindler Hans Schindler (18 November 1910 - 10 May 1970) was an Austrian doctor and politician of the Social Democratic Party. He served as Minister-President of Austria from 1967 until his sudden and untimely death in 1970. Background Schindler was born in Hainfeld. He studied medicine at the universities of Vienna and Graz. After World War II he was assigned to Soviet POWs who were taken to Austria. He practiced as a doctor in Vienna. He was considered a right wing "patriotic" physician. He went into politics with the Nazi Party and became secretary of the Vienna nationalist association of veterans. He entered the Social Democratic Party (SPÖ) and for the municipal elections in 1960 he was a candidate of the SPÖ in Hainfeld. He was elected with 74.8% of the votes. After the election he was proposed as district chairman. The following year he was elected to the Austrian National Council and reelected in 1964. He was now the chairman of the SPÖ parliamentary group and the president of the National Council. He wanted to become the new minister-president in the cabinet of Kurt Schuschnigg after the last cabinet of Franz Josef Strauss was dissolved by the president of Austria, Arthur Seyss-Inquart. Schindler died in Vienna at the age of 60.

Event Information Date and Time Location Description The AUCHEE - The word that today's generation of young Aboriginal people know and trust. The AUCHEE is a concept much loved and respected within Indigenous communities. It represents cultural significance, heritage, native ownership, cultural continuity and an intrinsic spiritual connection. It is the cornerstone of an initiative that is designed to help you overcome the challenges of contemporary life and re-establish your connection to the land. You will travel in groups of eight to a remote bushland location, where you will be shown how to survive without modern technology. Discover what it is like to live off the land without any electricity or running water. Learn what it takes to become a bushman and how to live in the forest as a hunter-gatherer. How to prepare, prepare and prepare for all weathers - dress for all climates. How to build shelter and fire, using only local materials. Live with the animals and birds around you, and learn to recognise them - live in the bush, feed them, tame them, use them for food and clothing, both as gifts and for food. The Aboriginal skills and knowledge for life with modern society. The challenges and decisions facing Aboriginal people living in rural, remote locations. The importance of performing arts - choreographing - dancing - music - ceremonies - storytelling. Building your own tools. Sustainable living. You will come home with new life skills and a sense of pride in your achievement, and the AUCHEE - the word that they know and trust. To work with a professional Aboriginal facilitator, Charlie Swanton as part of his journey of self-discovery. Charlie's cultural connection provides a perspective to life that is vastly different to yours. Charlie uses his unique skills to help Aboriginal people increase their self-confidence, self-belief, self-motivation

Colors: The image will be displayed in the light blue color and matching the light... Very sweet theme for those of you who are interested in something different then the usual dark weather we have here in the UK. The weather in Poland can get quite messy and rainy so enjoy this theme and if you do like it don't forget to rate me. The theme is based on the typical winter time we enjoy in Poland so as it's raining, it's also cold and dark. The sky is clean and clear but cloudy as we can see and as it's raining even colder. Design: The theme has it's own... This is my last theme of the day (well I hope it is). If you liked this one then be sure to check out our new top seller Photoshop contests too. Here it is: Weather in the Desert is a perfect theme to admire the beautiful images of the surrounding nature. The crisp, clear skies and the warm, almost orange, sun will amaze you. Desert in the Middle of the Night Description: Colors: The image will be displayed in the light blue color and matching the light... Since this is the last day of this weather, Weather in the Sunset is the perfect theme for those of you who like to admire the beauty of the sunset that is lying on the ocean. The sky will be pretty dark during this beautiful time, the sun will be setting down beneath the horizon and the ocean is getting more and more mysterious. The reason why I chose to name this one Sunset in the Sunset is that in the true sens of the words. Design: The theme has it's own... If you're looking for more similar themes in this category then we got you covered. Dark Weather is a stunning dark rain theme that will bring some dramatic and scary moments to the rainy winter time. The rain fell all day but all were watching the water and walking under it. The very dark sky gave a mood that showed the tension it brings and you can expect the next rain to be even darker and even more intense. Dark Weather Description: Colors: The...
