She Dances on the Ceiling (Prologue to Knock-Out) She Dances on the Ceiling (Prologue to Knock-Out) is a 2000 German live action short film directed by David Alan Grier. Plot The story begins with a young man named Kim (R.J. Kelly) in a club doing heroin. When the police kick him out, he heads home. He goes to his room to find his mother (Jennifer Hudson) doing heroin with two men dressed in black suits, and a party going on downstairs. Kim has a dream that he is fighting people on his TV/VCR, and wakes up to find his mother a corpse. The following day, Kim notices that his neighbor Paula (Armando Reynoso) has a party upstairs, and gives Kim a bag of heroin. Kim tries to sneak into Paula's party, but the butler (William Cordero) stops him, saying his parents are both dead and he is being raised by his aunt (Diallo Riddle). Kim gets pissed, and takes the heroin. Kim then drives to the club, where he meets up with friend Mick (Phillip Williams) who had a movie star crush on him before he left town. The two go to the club, and the bouncer, Dickie (Jason Bright), gets mad at them and they get kicked out. In their car,

Story Line-The Story of the Trial of the Century begins as it was meant to! In the middle of the desert, a travelling wizard is confronted by seven mystical portals. He summons forth his friends, one by one, to fight a personal battle against the portals for their own lives. Through each portal, he hopes to find a way back to his home, but only a true hero may hope to escape the deadly Game of the Seven Circles.

Functionality - GM Forge is a Standalone Virtual Tabletop for GMs with the ability to connect to any local or online gaming group. The GM can manage the game, let the rules, symbols, & dice roll in real-time. It will track combat automatically, and even calculate a victor for you for the various abilities and feats that are tracked. It will automatically calculate scrolls, combat spells, feats, equipment, and even utility items. It can track units and track resource based spells. It has automatic combat tracking with enough options to be used by gamers of all types! Sandbox-GM Forge's sandbox is a fully immersive experience. You won't need any complicated rules, just Play! The sandbox will have the eight player character templates ready to use and 100+ options to customize your party to your needs. There are the seven basic races, eighteen core classes, and eleven unique abilities, spells, and equipment. When you purchase GM Forge, you will be given a free GM Sample kit to start building your characters with. Character Sheet Integration- GM Forge has worked with existing character sheet systems to add their character sheets to the game, allowing you to import the data to GM Forge and even backup with the API of those characters sheet systems. GM Forge is the first sandbox style virtual tabletop to integrate seamlessly with existing character sheet systems, allowing you to import any of the over 30 character sheet systems to GM Forge and have them automatically added to your party on the fly, with automatic backup! Voice Communication- From D&D 4e, Pathfinder, to Fantasy

Grounds (OGL and SD), GM Forge works with all of these systems. There are all of the GM/Player Voice chat options built in, allowing you to communicate with your GM and party via voice. There are 5 ingame voice systems available. DM ePawn- The DM is granted a mobile communication module that they can use to grant player's their voice commands through their headset. This system works in tandem with the GM's microphone when a player uses their voice to issue a command
