Hello guys, my name is Nate Ford and I am a software engineer. I am the developer of Craft Battle Simulator. I have been developing this game since 2012. My aim for the game is to make it as fun as possible, with a lot of great characteristics. For more information about me and my game visit my website: If you have any questions, requests, or issues, please let me know on twitter: Unordered list inside a div with different widths I'm trying to get an unordered list to display inside a div. The div and ul are all set to width:100%; but I can't figure out how to get the list to display all the way to the right of the div with the maximum width. Here's my JSFiddle: A: The issue is that your ul and div are both set to width:100%. Because they're set to width:100%, their widths are then set to 100% of 100% of the parent, i.e. 50%. Any width that's not 100% will not display correctly. To fix, use the width-property instead. ?using System.Reflection; using System.Runtime.CompilerServices; using System.Runtime.InteropServices; // General information about an assembly is controlled through the following // set of attributes. MachRace is an addictive, 1st level game with a boss fight that caps the speed at around 3600Mph (unlocked via online leader-board) and offers a long 1st level filled with danger. What to expect from the game: - An 80's inspired game with 2 distinct races, each with their own vehicle and ship designs. - Procedurally generated terrain and levels that are simply endless. - Very fast speeds, reaching speeds of 30'000km/h and even more (please note that these speeds are a ballpark estimation) - Unrealistically high difficulty, especially in the boss fight, and having obstacles and drones that are impossible to avoid. - Full controller support via DS4Windows - A global leaderboard to show your best scores to all players around the world - Optional chat support with Vox™. How to play: - Load/run game once. No need to re-load save each time. - Start game once and you can either exit the game to the menu or keep playing (exit in the menu will show you the speed you can reach) If you want to support the game, here's how to do it: - If you own Steam, go to Steam, search for "MachRace", select "Add a non-Steam Game". Click the "Add a non-Steam Game" button on the right. You will then need to add the latest build for Steam. After that, once you are done with the game, you need to install the build for Steam through the game menu (when exiting the game) - If you don't have Steam, download the latest build from the game menu (exit the game). Extract the game to your preferred directory, and run "Game", it should load the game. Once the game is up and running, install the game on your PC using steam (use the "Add a non-Steam Game" button as explained above) and from now on, you will need to run the game using "Steam" - If you own a DS4Windows and would like to install MachRace on your DS, you need to put your DS4Windows installation folder on a memory stick or any other storage device, and copy the folder to your DS. The game will

Input Themes

First of all, for those of you who didn't know. Last time, the official Twitter account of TOUKIDEN promised me that he is going to release patches based on the 'theme' in which the game was ran, thus for those of you who run the game on FSO it's a pretty safe bet to bet to say that this will be the case with Kiwami!

It will be easier to explain just how this applies to the boards:

There will be 7 boards like the original Kiwami that load according to the theme of which they are run (there you go, hope that you knew that ^^).
