The Department of the Navy (DON) is proposing a contract modification to reduce the cost of the U.S. Navy's fleet of dual-fuel engines by at least $2 billion, an effort the Navy claims will cut per-ship costs for future aircraft carrier construction. DON announced in May that it had chosen Boeing Co. to complete the development and build a new engine for the supercarrier USS Enterprise (CVN-80) in Everett, Wash. But over the past year the Navy has also made it known that it was planning to explore the procurement of an engine for the world's newest aircraft carrier, the USS Gerald R. Ford (CVN-78), which is slated for delivery in 2023. Navy officials have also stated that a new engine will be required to power USS Gerald R. Ford's flight deck catapults, a feature that is likely to be common to all of DON's future aircraft carriers. DON's initial concept of dual-fuel engines involves using both liquid hydrogen and conventional fuel, such as kerosene, in the same engine. The two fuels are combined in a "hybrid" tank, and when the train is moving

We describe a case of a young man with a severe digestive toxicity by indomethacin. The main risk of this drug is represented by the acute and/or chronic cardiopathy and the hemorrhagic events. So, the authors report an allergic reaction by a contrast agent, iopromide, with massive digestive symptoms. These data should be taken into account to decrease the number of hospitalizations and the consumption of this contrast agent.Q: GWT Native Client complex layout I'm trying to implement complex layout for my GWT application. I have a border around my whole app with separate left, right, top and bottom border. The width of the left border can vary in height (mostly 50px) while the width of the right border stays always 100px. The height of the right border can vary from 20px to 100px. Currently I have found this example on NDC website. It seems like I have to modify it to my needs. How should it be modified to have all this left border (variable height), right border (variable height) and center part (100px). As far as I know I need to create two RootPanel.outerRoot elements, one with height 100px and another one 100px, or do I have any other options? A: Probably the easiest solution would be to create two RootPan
