Archive for July, 2006 Another busy day of flying with a quick park job in the rain at Lansing. Nesco is glad to have me back and I'm happy to be here. My last post was about a night that I was a squadron commander and now I'm the squadron XO. I think I'm quite good for 68 hours. I remembered the last time I was in Lansing and it was for a campout in the woods. Just as I was getting back on the Beech and looking at the twinkling city lights when we got close to Raxford Road I remembered how it was to fly in on landing at Lansing and how we had to do a burn to stop. I can remember one of the young guys saying something about going to sit the fuck up in the tree. As I was flying the Beech was bouncing around like crazy and I was certain we were going to crash. With the last approach about 2,000 feet from Raxford a gust of wind caught us and the airplane flipped but we stayed level and made a beautiful landing. Here is a picture of the Beech that is now parked at The Red Wings Museum in Lansing and really I like the airplane much better than my first Beech Stagger Leisure 6000 that I had to make that last approach with on the last night of the Campout. This Beech Bonanza was built and registered in Illinois and was built in 1949. Ed Hall was the pilot. I have to say the airplane is in great shape for being at Raxford for so many years and it can still fly. Ed and I were talking about how lucky I was to have the airplanes that I do. He was flying the Engineman's Beech Bonanza and he was so proud when I showed him that I had been flying, a Stagger Leisure 6000 and now a Bonanza. The Bonanza has been in Michigan since 1991 and Ed is not flying the Bonanza but his wife Janet is the pilot. I remember one time Ed got the Bonanza two years ago in Ohio and he had a problem with the propeller rotating which was caused by a defect in the gear. When we got back to Lansing I gave him a call and I asked Ed if he wanted me to give him a ride home. As we flew Ed asked me what happened to the propeller problem. I told him it was fixed by installing new parts. Ed was a

Inspired by the insanely fun game Kickball, Big Boot Baseball merges the kickball rules of the real-world with the rules of baseball. To clarify, when you kick the ball in the air, whoever catches the ball gets the throwback '60s look, and is allowed to hit the house, or the kicker. (if it's not a 'sting' house, or kickball-style, the person could just hit the ground with the ball, and then run outta there) As an added challenge, the field is divided up into 4 parts: Kickoff Base-Plate Ramp Diamond You basically kick the ball, and then try to make your way to a section of the field to pick up a ball (hit the house) and then hit the diamond. The kicker will be killed if he's outta the diamond. In addition, once you go down, your out. With the exception of the All-Star Award, the brawler award, and The Cheese Award. Whoever scores the most points wins the game! There's even unlockable teams, and leagues for gamers to play in! There are over 400+ up-to-date tournaments for users to choose from! All you have to do is load up the game, and start playing! That's pretty much it! And of course, lots of different options, and settings to play around with! You can make the game challenging, or turn it off and not worry about any of that! Updates: Game speed has been given a boost, to help beginners' learn faster. Game play has also been made more intuitive, and there are now 4 different stadiums to play in. Small fixes, and bug fixes have also been implemented.
