NEW YORK (CBSNewYork) - A Long Island mom is planning to fight her three-year-old daughter's cancer and join a fairytale run in a suicide attempt to raise money for the fund. Belinda Dole's daughter, Julianna, is the youngest girl on her team, called the Fearsome Five, racing to finish first place by making the journey from Port Washington to Tappan Zee Bridge in Nyack. The Fearsome Five have taken that long journey twice before and have finished first and second. But this time, the race will take place during a family visit to Disney's Magic Kingdom, and Julianna's mom, Dole, is making sure the trip is a positive one. The idea of the suicide attempt came from a conversation with her husband, Peter Dole, about Julianna's cancer. "It was something Peter and I got into some conversation about after Julianna had her radiation," Dole said.

For Julianna, a visit to Disneyland may be just like a visit to the park. "It's Disneyland," Dole said. "It's all a big movie. And she gets to go to the happiest place on Earth. It's so much fun for her." Julianna was diagnosed with cancer last September, just days before the second race of the season. "The doctors have given us nine months to a year to live," Dole said. "So we had to start planning for that." But a grand plan for the child's final trip to Disneyland met with disapproval from Julianna's doctors. "We are saying no to Disneyland because her doctors said she can't be around any kids who are sick," Dole said. "So that is where it started." The Dole family made an appeal to headliners and Disney Characters, asking for donation to help cover the cost of their trip, though Julianna's health is the most important aspect of the plan. But Disney encouraged the family to make 6d1f23a050
