Maccabi Yoel Maccabi Yoel is a professional football club based in the city of Metula, Israel. The club is currently competing in Liga Leumit, the Israeli Premier League. History it was established in 1974 by the merger of the two local football clubs, Bnei Barak Metula and Maccabi Metula. The club is named after Maccabi Maccabi Haifa founder and first president, Yoel Marcus, who served as president of the club for over 40 years, until his death in 2006. The club changed its name in 2006 to Ahli Bet HaSharon (Hebrew: אהלי בת השרון), since Maccabi later joined Hapoel. The club currently plays its home matches at the 6,000 capacity Maccabi Stadium in Metula. The stadium was opened in April 2004, as the home stadium of Bnei Barak Metula. In 2009, the club changed its name to Ahli Bet HaSharon once more, and placed as last in the league, after two seasons in the top division, in 2008 and 2009. In 2011 the club finally managed to promote to the Israeli Premier League after a third place finish in the league's second division. In 2013
