Duncan Ward (born Peter James Ward on 17 March 1943 in Adlington, Lancashire, England) is a British R&B singer who had a no 1 chart record in the UK between 1968 and 1971. His charting singles were "You Can't Hurry Love", "Got To Get You into My Life", "She's A Woman" and "Your Love's Been A Long Time Coming". He was also the first artist to write and record "Too Late to Worry"Â .I haven't seen "The Secret in Their Eyes," the new movie about the kidnapping and killing of Italian journalists Giuliana Sgrena and Nicola Mancino. I also haven't seen "The Lord of the Rings," "The Hobbit," "The Golden Compass," or "J.K. Rowling's Fantastic

Four." But that hasn't stopped me from posting endless diatribes about the movies, and pretending that I know something about them. There's just one problem: I don't. I could name a movie from every decade over the last 100 years. I could name almost every movie made in the world (unless it's an offbeat indie). I could even name every book ever written in English. And if I don't know about a movie or a book, I can usually find out about it in a half-hour. But I don't know anything about movies. Don't get me wrong: I love movies. I've gone to the movies a hundred times. I've even taken my fiveyear-old daughter. We go every week. And I've watched some good ones. But I can't name a single movie that I remember, or even a movie that I could describe to you. Admittedly, it's not an easy task. I don't know every movie made since the invention of the movie projector. I don't know some of the best of the greatest movies ever made. I don't know who made them. I don't know how they were made. Some movie-makers — Sylvester Stallone, Michael Crichton and Richard Gere, just to name a few — are just plain bad. Sometimes
